

U. S. INDUSTRY AGAIN BACK ON FEET; BIG GAIN

Marking Up Best Production
Record Since Period of Depression.

OUTPUT INCREASED

Farmers Resting Easy
Government Report
Indicates.

Washington, Oct. 10.—American industry is now marking up the best production record made since the period of depression two years ago, it was shown by a new business survey issued today by the department of commerce.

Increased output is general among all industries the report said. Factory employment is larger than at the end of 1920, which is held to be a chief factor in a more even distribution of buying power.

Declines in prices for agricultural products are believed only temporary. Bountiful harvests forecast for this year have served to depress farm product prices but world demand is due to send them up again. Meanwhile the farmers are resting easy, assured of plenty of credit, according to government officials, and a large percentage of them so well established they would not have to make demands upon the banks such as were necessary last year and the year preceding.

Manufactured articles and minerals have shown a tendency to rise in price as a result of increased demands. The conclusion of experts is that industry is again upon a sound basis, after twenty-four months of curtailed production and deliveries from accumulated stocks of goods.

Healthy business activity is reflected by the following industrial developments:

Wool consumption is larger than at any period since the census bureau began compiling such data. The textile mills absorbed a large volume, due partly to the increased receipts of foreign wool before enactment of the tariff law.

Cotton spindles are more active. Although exports of cotton cloth has reached 11,000,000 pounds a month the highest in a year.

Locomotive manufacturers are speeding up to meet the needs of the railroads for new motive power. The plants have unfilled orders for 926 locomotives the largest since 1920.

While exports of steel and iron have declined they are considerably higher than the low records of last year.

Production of automobiles, both passenger and trucks now exceed all previous records.

Large seasonal increases in exports of wheat and wheat flour are noted. Exports of rye and rye flour also have increased.

There is an actual shortage of labor in a number of industrial lines, the demand for skilled labor being particularly strong.

H. & A. CO. MAKES INCREASE IN WAGES

A new winter wage schedule, providing an increase in salaries, and affecting all mill departments has been put into effect by the Hoover & Allison Company, according to announcement of officials Tuesday.

The new schedule of salary rates, providing an advance for mill employees, is effective in all mills operated by the company here and was a welcome announcement to employees of the company. The new scale is already in effect. The percentage of increase has not been made public.

PARENTS ACCEPT BABY AS OWN

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rich, Baby Edward, and Dorothy Rich.

Jersey City, Oct. 10.—Edward Rich and his wife yesterday accepted a girl baby as the child born to them recently at the Bergen Sanitarium, convinced at last that their wish alone had inspired belief that their child was a boy.

The parents were held on a charge of abandonment last week when they flatly refused to accept the girl baby, insisting someone at the hospital had mixed new-born babies and given them the wrong one. The case was referred to Mayor Hague as arbitrator.

The mayor examined several witnesses before the parents, and they finally said they were convinced the girl baby was theirs.

More Than 400,000 Greek Refugees Face Starvation

British and French Turn Attention to Relief Work in Near East, Where Pestilence Hovers Over
Stricken Population.

London, Oct. 10.—More than 400,000 Greek refugees, mostly women and children and old men, are massed in Greece, Thrace and upon islands in the Aegean sea, threatened with death from starvation and exposure. All were driven from their Near East homes by the war between the Turks and Greeks and are penniless.

The British and French are now turning their entire attention to the relief of the Greek and Armenian refugees. Hundreds of thousands of them will have to be evacuated from Constantinople and Thrace before the peace treaty is signed and the Turkish soldiers occupy both these districts.

To add to the horror which confronts these homeless, penniless, starving hordes pestilence is decimating them. Medical supplies are lacking and there are only a few nurses and physicians to care for the dying.

It is probable that both England and France will vote a sum of money to be administered by the League of Nations and commission Dr. Fridtjof Nansen to go to the Near East to supervise the relief work. Dr. Nansen had wide experience in this kind of work in Russia.

Dr. Nansen will arrange for the transportation of Greek fugitives from Thrace and Constantinople to Greece.

The refugees are being concentrated in twelve principal centers.

American relief stations have been set up and are now functioning with typical American efficiency. R. R. Rogers, of Philadelphia is trying to communicate with American relatives of Greek and Armenian fugitives to appeal for help.

PRISONERS FREED BY SOLDIERS; FIND GUARD OVERPOWERED

Cincinnati, Oct. 10.—After covering him with revolvers and forcing him to surrender his rifle two United States army soldiers at the Ft. Thomas Army Post, Ft. Thomas, Ky., yesterday afternoon, made a prisoner of the sentry, released two prisoners under his charge, compelled the sentry to accompany them into a dense wood near the reservation and then bound him hand and foot to a tree, so he could not give the alarm.

Then, with one of the prisoners who escaped with them, the two soldiers disappeared in the thick woods that covers the hills near Ft. Thomas. The second prisoner, who was being held in the guardhouse on a minor charge declined to take advantage of the opportunity offered him to escape, and returned to the army post and gave the alarm.

Scouting detachments, heavily armed, were sent out immediately from the post to cover the surrounding territory, but late last night had failed to overtake the fugitives who last were seen in the vicinity of Trenton, Ky. Army officers were anticipating a battle in event the deserters were overtaken.

The sentry, Fletcher A. Whitmore, a member of the Field Artillery, temporarily assigned to the fort, was found by the scouts about 400 yards from the reservation tied to a tree with army belts. He was released and assisted in the search.

The three fugitives now being sought as deserters are: Charles G. Kirby, 25 years old, Mt. Healthy, O., the prisoner who was released, and the two soldiers who released him, Robert B. Withrow, Fresno, Cal., formerly of Hamilton, Ohio, and Theodore H. Hall, 20 years old, 2 Harmon Avenue, Hamilton, Ohio.

A reward of $50 was offered by the military authorities last night for information leading to the detection of the three men.

The second prisoner, who declined to escape, is Lucien Yalber. He was being held at the guardhouse on a charge of having been absent without leave.

Officials of the village said they were told the collision was caused by misunderstanding of signals.

The fireman was killed instantly.

The train was carrying a large load of lumber and was being operated by a local engineer.

The accident occurred on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad, about five miles south of Lebanon, Ohio.

ARMS TREATIES TO BE CHANGED IF FRANCE OUT

Failure of That Country and Italy to Sign Will Force Re-Writing

JAPAN FIRST IN LINE

May Limit Treaties To
United States, Great Britain and Japan

Washington, Oct. 10.—Official documents of ratification of the arms conference treaties are now en route to Washington from Tokyo, it was learned officially today.

Charge d'Affaires Saburi, of the Japanese embassy here has been given full authority to exchange ratifications upon receipt of the documents, thus completing Japan's part in the agreements.

The treaties are to become effective upon exchange of ratifications by all the signatory powers, the exchanges to take place at Washington.

In granting authority for the exchange of ratifications, Japan is maintaining her reputation as among the first of the great powers to live up to the conference agreements. Except for the United States, Japan was the first nation to ratify the treaties, having been ahead of Great Britain and China, the only other two countries to have ratified.

Apprehension felt here at the delay manifested by France and Italy in ratifying the treaties also are felt in Tokyo. A movement is on foot in Japan to rewrite the naval treaty, and the so-called four-power Pacific treaty, limiting them to the United States, Great Britain and Japan. This would mean the exclusion of France and Italy from the naval treaty, and the exclusion of France and Italy from the four-power Pacific treaty, and the exclusion of France from the four-power Pacific treaty.

As for the naval treaty, it is pointed out that the original plan as suggested by Senator Borah, provided for a reduction of naval armaments by the United States, Great Britain and Japan only.

It is known that the Harding administration has been considerably annoyed by the failure of France and Italy to act promptly in ratifying the treaties. The current explanation of this delay is that French and Italian statesmen have hoped to use ratification in international trading, particularly in connection with indebtedness to the United States.

This annoyance has been even more marked in Japan, where public opinion had been prepared for an immediate and very considerable saving as a result of naval reductions.

Limiting the treaties to the big three would mean the rewriting of the four power treaty and the naval treaty and retention of the 5-5-3 ratio. It would then be necessary to submit the rewritten treaties to the United States senate for ratification.

Both President Harding and Secretary Hughes are still hopeful that France and Italy will ratify the treaties, making such revision unnecessary.

A serious situation has developed in the Hocking coal fields, Director Tetlow said, due to inability of railroads to move loaded coal cars. Only two or three working days was the average last week at these mines.

Formal protest may be filed with United States.

French Merchant Marine Officials Appeal to Premier Poincare to Protest Attorney General's Liquor Ruling.

Paris, Oct. 10.—French merchant marine officials today appealed to Premier Poincare to make formal protest to the United States against Attorney General Daugherty's ruling that no ships carrying liquor shall enter the three mile zone off the American coast. The French charge that the American liquor ruling violates the freedom of the seas and interferes with the French law allowing a portion of wine to be served daily as part of the food of the French sailors.

The French are threatening customs reprisals against the United States for losses accruing to French Commerce as a result of the ruling. Formal request will be made that the ruling be held in abeyance until diplomatic conversations can be held in an effort to reach amicable adjustment.

French maritime officials are angered over the American action and it is feared that it will be difficult to obtain seamen to man ships if the sailors are not allowed to get their accustomed wine while in American ports.

London, Oct. 10.—Representatives of shipping companies plying the Baltic Sea and the North Atlantic coast met here today to take action to combat the American government's ruling that ships carrying liquor shall not enter American ports.

Those attending the meeting would not say what action was under consideration but it was intimated that reprisals would be suggested.

The foreign office announced today that it would send a formal communication to Washington upon the Daugherty ruling as soon as it had been studied in detail.

INTRIGUE UNDERMINES NEAR EAST CONFERENCE

Meeting Described as "Morass of Underground Politics" —Optimistic Reports Received Indicating Agreement Is Near.

London, Oct. 10.—Mohammed VI, sultan of Turkey has definitely tendered his resignation to Mustapha Kemal Pasha, head of the Angora government, out acceptance has been withheld pending the outcome of the armistice negotiations at Mudania, said a Constantinople dispatch printed in the Morning Post today.

London, Oct. 10.—The Near East armistice conference at Mudania is described as a "morass of intrigues, prevarication and underground politics," in a report received by the war office this afternoon from General Sir Charles Harrington, British commander at Constantinople and British delegate in the conference. The cabinet met to discuss it. General Harrington asked for further instructions owing to the dilatory methods of Ismet Pasha, the Turkish delegate, who is obstructing the conference on minor points, meanwhile making conciliatory speeches.

Foreign officials said they had been advised that the Mudania conference had taken a recess but would meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon to receive the Turkish reply to the allied program. This reply is coming from Angora, where the Turkish national assembly had been meeting.

Premier Lloyd George is reported to be planning to make a great speech probably on Saturday defending himself against personal attacks regarding Near East policy and perhaps outlining his political future.

Notwithstanding the onslaughts from all sides it is understood that the premier is unlikely to resign until Europe is more quiet and the Near East crisis is on the way to settlement.

E. Venizelos, former premier of Greece, notified foreign secretary, Curzon today that he had accepted the post of "Greek ambassador extraordinary to all Europe." He said that the Greek delegates at Mudania had been instructed to act in accordance with the delegates of Britain, France and Italy.

Optimistic reports reached the foreign office today from Constantinople and Mudania indicating that an armistice agreement might be signed at the latter place before night.

All quarters admitted that the prospects for Near East peace have improved within the past twenty-four hours as the result of the withdrawal of the Turkish troops from the neutral zone at Ismid.

BOY'S STORY OF MURDER MAY BE UPSET IN COURT

New Witness, a Woman, to Tell What She Saw
From Window

TWO ARE DETAINED

Mystery of Death of Minister and Choir Leader
Yet Unsolved.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 10.—A new witness, who claims to have seen Rev. Dr. Edward W. Hall, wealthy rector of the fashionable Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist, and his beautiful choir leader, Mrs. James Mills, killed in "a battle between a man and a woman on one side and two men and a woman on the other side," was found today.

The new witness is a woman. The self-claimed eye witness of the mysterious midnight tragedy, which has baffled the authorities more than three weeks is an inmate of the Parker Home for the aged which is just across the road from the old Phillips farm where the bodies of Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were found side by side beneath a stunted crab apple tree on Saturday, Sept. 16. If the woman's statement is verified and proved true she will prove false the murder charge against 19-year-old Clifford Hayes, who is held as the result of a story told by his pal Raymond Schneider.

This woman, whose name is withheld for the present, said that on Friday morning, Sept. 15, about half an hour after midnight, while lying in bed she awakened and heard screams and cries. Getting out of bed she went to a window where she saw a woman and two men fighting a man and a woman at the corner of De Russys lane and Easton Avenue, both of which pass either through or by the old Phillips farm. The struggle she said, was terrific. Presently, the woman said, she heard several shots. This frightened her so much she jumped back into bed and hid her head beneath the covers.

It is understood that corroboration of the fight has been obtained from other witnesses.

With two self-possessed boys in jail facing possible arraignment this afternoon the Somerset and Middlesex County authorities worked feverishly today to throw further light upon the mysterious tangle of circumstances surrounding the double murder. The two prisoners, Clifford Hayes, charged with first degree murder, and Raymond Schneider, held as a material witness spent a comfortable night and if their minds were disturbed by the urid account of midnight murder on a lonely farm beside a deserted house, they did not allow it to interfere with their slumbers. Both are held incommunicado so far as reporters are concerned.

Pearl Bahmer, the 15 year old girl with whom Hayes and Schneider were reported to be infatuated, intimated that she might be able to spring a sensation if questioned again. "If I am brought up before the authorities I will tell a real story," said Pearl. "I know Clifford did not shoot Mr. Hall or Mrs. Mills."

It was learned that the girl accused Schneider of trying to induce her to "put a her stop father. Schneider is said to have urged the girl to "put laudanum" in the old man's drink.

The police have learned that the girl either attempted or pretended to commit suicide about two months ago. She was dragged from the Raritan canal unconscious. She had left a note on the bank reading: "Ray Schneider is the cause of this act."

Cincinnati, Oct. 10.—Reduction of 17 per cent in all kinds of accidents at crossings and 41 per cent in the number of fatalities between June 1 and September 30 was accomplished by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad System through its "Cross Crossings Cautiously" Campaign.

This is according to the statement of F. X. Mitholland, assistant to the Senior Vice President of the system issued yesterday. The statement shows that there were but 22 fatalities this year as compared with 37 killed in the summer of 1921. The reduction in injuries amounted to 9 per cent.

London, Oct. 10.—Representatives of shipping companies plying the Baltic Sea and the North Atlantic coast met here today to take action to combat the American government's ruling that ships carrying liquor shall not enter American ports.

Those attending the meeting would not say what action was under consideration but it was intimated that reprisals would be suggested.

The foreign office announced today that it would send a formal communication to Washington upon the Daugherty ruling as soon as it had been studied in detail.

French maritime officials are angered over the American action and it is feared that it will be difficult to obtain seamen to man ships if the sailors are not allowed to get their accustomed wine while in American ports.

A delicious luncheon course was served by Mrs. Street, at the close of the evening's program. Mrs. Street was assisted in entertaining by the members of her group.

EVENING PARTY FOR BRIDE-ELECT
The home of Mrs. J. W. Faulkner of Hill Street, was the scene of a pretty evening party, Monday, given in honor of Mrs. Loretta Brown, whose marriage to Mr. Frank Land, of Newark, will take place this coming week.

Mellow lights and colors were effectively used in the decorations of the rooms and prevailed in the favors and flowers used throughout, the colors carrying out, in Halloween idea.

A two-course luncheon was served by Mrs. Faulkner during the evening after which the guests were entertained with a drawing contest, when the prize for the best "artist" in completing a picture of a bride, was won by Mrs. V. F. Brown, the other prize being awarded Mrs. Frank Hurley. The affair was one of the most delightful given in Mrs. Brown's honor, since the announcement of her approaching marriage was made.

Indomitable Durant

It is said in automotive circles that W. C. Durant accomplishes what he plans; to him difficulties are so many spurs to greater effort, making one get on the faster.

He is the man who made the Buick. He conceived and organized General Motors, including Cadillac, Chevrolet, Oakland and Oldsmobile. Certainly a considerable monument to one man's tireless energy.

But now, when many men would be content to enjoy a well-earned vacation, he is up to the armpits in the business of launching the crowning effort of his career.

It's "just a real good car," Durant says. "If it's good enough for him to christen with his own name, it's good enough for us," said the trade, and in 141 working days after the announcement they contracted for $31,000,000 worth of Durant cars.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes
—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, hollow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 50c.

The Fidelity Service & Adjustment Co., of Dayton, Ohio, a corporation organized to render a service to the automobile tire user and tire dealer. On January 1, 1922, practically every automobile tire manufacturer released their mileage guarantee on tires, which at the best was a makeshift and the cause of endless friction between the car owner and dealer, because the man who had a just complaint was generally the one who was not taken care of.

NO LACK OF INTEREST IN BASEBALL.

Despite the "pulling" power of millions of baseball fans, the world series is again under way between the two New York teams, and so far as attendance is concerned the interest is just as keen as ever in the baseball classic. Hundreds of thousands of fans will witness the series and millions more will wish they could.

But the lavish expenditure of money by the New York clubs in building up their machines has left a bad taste in the mouth of fans in general. There is a feeling that money and not ability won the big league pennants this year, and this feeling does not do the great game any good.

Admiration for the great baseball manager who can go out and find youngsters and develop them into pennant winning stars is lacking this year. New York managers have done little developing, digging rather into their pockets for huge wads of cash to buy the ability developed by others.

The buying of ball players is entirely legitimate and baseball is a business where it has been demonstrated that the best lined pocketbook can bring home the most bacon.

The proposed change in the rules whereby deals will not be permissible late in the season will have a wholesome effect in future seasons in removing from the minds of the fans conviction that cash rather than ability wins baseball honors.

"Boo-hoos" beat against the eardrums of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, High Commissioner of Baseball, from the mouths of thousands of fans at the New York Polo rounds Thursday afternoon when umpires stopped the second game of the world series between the Giants and the Yankees at the end of tenth inning on account of alleged darkness.

The score stood 3 to 3. There appeared to be enough daylight left to play at least one, and perhaps two more innings. It was a strange situation for the man who for many years, as a Federal Judge, was the autocrat of his surroundings.

But Kenesaw Mountain Landis fixed it up with the players by deciding that neither club should be advantaged from the gate receipts of $125,000, giving all of this vast sum to the cause of charity. Hurrah for Landis.

Hildebrand, American League umpire, and Bill Klem, National League umpire, were responsible for calling the game. They conducted a conference, and decided that it would be too dark after the tenth to proceed further.

"We got caught in a jam in Boston one year because we failed to call a game in time," said Klem. "We were afraid of the same thing today."

$2,500,000 ASKED BY U. S. IN FIRST WAR-FRAUD SUIT.

The United States Government has filed suit in Dayton, against the Dayton Airplane Company, formerly known as the Dayton Wright Airplane Company, seeking to recover $2,408,267.41 at 6 per cent interest from June 11, 1919, alleged to have been fraudulently paid to the company by Government officials.

The Government alleges that certain provisions in the contracts entered into by duly authorized officers were wrongful, unlawful, fraudulent and void. The Government action states that because of the national emergency the Government was not able, with the facilities of its disposal, to furnish a sufficient quantity of aeronautical equipment necessary for its purposes.

The claim recites seven contracts and supplements, among which are two contracts in which the Government agreed to provide the defendants with $2,500,000 to carry out the contract.

The suit was filed by Thomas H. Morrow, United States District Attorney, of Cincinnati, and James N. Linton, Assistant United States Attorney General, Columbus, Ohio. Attorney Linton was appointed by Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty to investigate airplane expenditures during the war.

GOOD BUSINESS.

It is refreshing to read the following, recently put out as a business policy by Henry Ford, who employs 70,000 men in his factory. The wets can hardly find any consolation in this announcement, posted up in the Ford office and shops:

"From now on it will cost a man his job, without any excuse or appeal being considered, to have these odors of beer, wine or liquor on his breath or to have any of these intoxicants on his persons or in his home."

"The eighteenth amendment is a part of the fundamental law of this country. It was meant to be enforced. Politics has interfered with enforcement of this law, but so far as our organization is concerned it is going to be enforced to the letter."

If every business in the United States will follow this up with a similar notice to employees, it will add several more spades of green sod over John Barleycorn's resting-place.

If every one should stop drinking that would end the whole question of law enforcement. John Barleycorn might hope for a resurrection as long as people continue to demand their personal liberty to step on the Constitution. But he would be buried deeper than the foundations of the Woolworth Building, never to rise again, if drinkers stopped drinking.

Anthracite miners dig on an average two-thirds of a ton less of coal each day than those employed in bituminous mines.

Of the 41,000,000 wage-earners in the United States, the rated output of energy is a little more than 4,000,000 horsepower.

Approximately 100,000,000 pounds of copper will be utilized this year in the manufacture of automobiles in this country.

More than 130,000,000 lead pencils are made in the United States each year, averaging approximately eight for each inhabitant.

The New York City Water Department sells on an average of 700,000,000 gallons of water per day, or 250,000,000,000 gallons a year.

Owing to the material reduction in the cotton crop of Texas the largest cotton crop in the history of that State will be produced this year.

ANSWERED LETTERS

A. M.—There should never be a scar following the removal of superfluous hair by the electric needle. Try a simple astringent that is also healing, such as witch hazel. For a skin as dry as yours it is essential to massage into it as much cream as the skin will absorb. Wipe off the surplus cream since you do not like the oil on the face. When feeding the skin in this way there is no necessity for a facial massage, merely use the finger tips to work the cream into the pores.

Melba—A powder which is used in the place of soap for blackheads is made by mixing 2 ounces of corn starch, 1 ounce of powdered borax and 1 ounce of almond meal. Hold hot, wet cloths over the face, then take a little powder on the fingers and rub thoroughly into the wet skin and repeat until you have used quite a bit of the powder, which the skin will absorb. Wash out with hot water and massage in a little cream.

Varna—There is no indication that bobbed hair is going out of fashion. There is a movement among some hair dressers to hold this style for daytime, for evening wear they suggest encircling much of the head in swirls of soft net of the same color as the hair, or covering it with the hair switches, all of which is such an affectation it is not likely that many women will come to disguise the fact that the hair is bobbed since it is so youthful when it is becoming.

Marie C.—You can train your eyebrows to lie flat if you brush them into place every morning. Use small stiff bristled brush for this.

Anxious—Henna is not a dye but the preparations that claim to color the hair black, or any other than the natural shade of henna are usually dyes, even though they include henna with the other colors.

M. M.—For the oily skin, use some simple astringent, such as witch hazel or a few drops of benzoin in a basin of water when rinsing the face after cleansing the pores.

D. S.—A curling liquid is made by dissolving gum tragacanth with hot water, until it becomes a thin mucilage. Dampen the hair with this before putting it up in curlers. Comb it out after the glue has dried and then shake out all the loose particles.

P. F. G.—If your legs are covered with pimples and blackheads your blood needs to be purified and the pores of the skin cleansed. Start with the digestion and correct any trouble there, after which keep the whole system cleared. Use a bath brush and scrub the skin with hot water and soap. The blackheads on the legs have resulted from wearing such sheer hosiery when the pores of the skin were already coarsened from trying to relieve the system of excess waste.

Tomorrow—Soothing Powders.

RIGHT AND WRONG.

Last week some fiend in human form worked off on me a phony buck, and wrath rose in me like a store, I strongly yearned to run amuck. "Ah, well," I sighed, when cooling down, "all is not lost, there's hope ahead; there's some poor fish in this man's town who'll fall for this bum coin of lead. The grocer's eyes are weak and dim, he'd never wise up to my game; I'll shove this bogus plunk on him—he'll never know from whom it came." First impulse always sways me thus, for self defense is in me born; I must get even with the cuss who steps upon my choicest corn. But second impulse comes and swings my mind around when I get cool; it is the outcome of the things I learned at home and Sunday school. "Some guy has wrought me ill," I think, "but that's no reason, sound or true, why I should seek some other gink, and play a scurvy trick or two. The grocer is an honest wight, and it would be a rotten deal to take advantage of his sight, and sting him with this pewter wheel. I'll meet him off in future days, and if I pulled so coarse a stunt I'd always dread to meet his gaze, I'd surely show a guilty front. So I will throw this buck away, I'll drop it down in yonder well, where it can tempt no other jay to hit the path that leads to Hannibal, Mo."

NEVER BE AFRAID

I have often wondered why fear was ever put into the world. How it chills one to see another who is frightened—and how it must chill others to see us frightened. I have noticed that the nobler a character is, the less afraid it is, and the rarer it is for such a one to be frightened. The surer a man is of his ground, the more confidence there is in everything he thinks, says, and does. And the higher in spiritual intelligence a man becomes, the calmer and more courageous he presents himself before every emergency calling for control. After a noted address by the great Henry Ward Beecher, a man came to his hotel and asked to see him. Walking up to Beecher, the man commanded him to retract what he had said during the evening. "Take it back," said the man, pointing a gun in Beecher's face, "or I will shoot you." "Shoot ahead!" were the only words the great preacher uttered. It is not recorded that Beecher was shot. Fear is distinctly an inherited lower trait. Animals are all fearful. Jesus was always telling His disciples not to be afraid. "Fear not," He would say, "for I am with you." How much it means to have those about us who can come to us and tell us not to fear, when we become frightened along life's way! How beautiful the trust of a little child as it takes its mother's or father's hand and blindly trusts that it will be led aright. Today I saw a mother cross a crowded street with four small children. Two of them held her hands and the other two held the hands of the two that held hers. A regular chain of trust, I thought as I watched. And when we are extremely lonely in spirit, how fine it is to feel that someone's invisible hand holds ours and sends a message through telling us not to be afraid. Tell me more you believe in an intelligence higher than your own, the less will you be afraid.

Many Children Vitamin-Starved

Vitamin B is a food element as essential to life and health as air and water. Yet many of the very foods you think most nourishing are sadly deficient in this vital substance; among them, meats, lard, butter, fine flour bread, rice, corn meal and many popular breakfast foods. Even milk is not rich enough in vitamin B. Many children suffer from vitamin starvation. Their growth is stunted, they lose color, strength and vitality, and fall an easy prey to disease.

Now A Complete Food

"ZEP," a delicious new breakfast food—a toasted delight, ready to serve—supplies in itself not only the necessary vitamin B, but also food iron for the blood and food lime for the bones and muscles, and other food salts for the brain and nerves. Children love it. Give it to them with cream or milk twice a day and you'll see new roses in their cheeks.

Ask Your Grocer for "ZEP" (formerly "PEP"), and "Sevintin" Cereal. ZEP—the original Battle Creek Bran, it is the best. Goes fine with "ZEP." Look for the yellow package with red seal. THE BATTLE CREEK FOOD COMPANY, Battle Creek, Michigan.

The Markets

STOCKS
The trading element early in the week took the view that the reaction downward had corrected the market's over bought condition and under the stimulus of favorable news from the Near East, bought stocks substantially. Prices advanced sharply. Opinion grows that the forward movement has not yet culminated. A pronounced slump in market values would come as a distinct surprise. At the same time no hectic forward movement is in prospect. The Turkish situation is regarded as serious by some observers and as little more than a ripple in others.

GRAIN
Sales to exporters, a slight increase in flour demand and war clouds over Europe supported prices as did the fact that car shortage is interfering somewhat with the movement of new grain. Sentiment is slowly becoming more bullish and traders do not look for a decline in wheat from recent levels, while they expect corn and oats to work higher. A wide market for corn and oats later in the season is seemingly assured. The trouble with the wheat market has been that the bulk of supply was at hand, while demand is necessarily scattered over the entire year.

LIVESTOCK
Choice cattle fully maintain their strength and are invincible. Lower grades show weakness. The supply of grassers and shortfeds has been increasing. Demand for choice beef is exceptionally strong, while supply is limited. The hog market has been nervous and subject to rather violent fluctuations. Live mutton reacted after a period of firmness. Stocks of frozen beef are 'way below the five year average. Export trade in lards and meat has been large.

WOOL
The passage of the tariff has stabilized the wool market and produced a buoyant tone. Prices are very firm. Manufacturers are buying freely whenever they get wool at what they consider reasonable prices. The trend of best grade wools in foreign markets is upward. No one expects prices to recede. Withdrawals of wool from bond have been considerable, but not excessive.

COTTON
The cotton market holds tenaciously to the 20c level although discouraged by Near East dispatches prior to the Mudania conference. The October crop report was close to private estimates and did not agitate the trading. An unusually large percentage of the crop has been picked, hence the ginning report to September 25 occasioned no surprise.

METALS
Prices are still advancing in the iron and steel industry. Production has increased, but suffers keenly at some point, from the scarcity of coal cars and cars for delivery of finished products. Foundries are suffering along with the mills. Demand for fabricated steel has fallen off.

AGRICULTURE
The farmer's credit demands are unusually slack, reports the Cleveland Federal Reserve Bank. Normally the need of funds for crop-moving is rather pressing. This condition may be taken either as a sign that the farmer is voluntarily and deliberately holding for higher prices or as evidence that grain is hard to move on account of car shortage. The bank takes the latter view.

The automobile trade has found a perceptible increase in demand for cars and trucks throughout the agricultural regions. The state fairs are a good barometer of the farmer's intentions. Automobile manufacturers are maintaining their production at a high level. If the farmer buys a car or truck this year, it is a safe conclusion that he does so because he has found the motor vehicle a virtual necessity in reducing distances, and not because he has money to spend on pleasures and luxuries.

A report on agricultural conditions in the Southwest, similar to that from the Northwest published in this column a week ago, comes from the Liberty Central Trust Co., of St. Louis. In Arkansas and Texas, the bank's correspondents believe, the farmer will more than break even, while in Oklahoma and Illinois he will get but meager returns. Missouri is near the border line between profit and loss, on the side of profit.

Fire Prevention Week, celebrated October 2 to 9, has a peculiarly intimate bearing on farm life because of the farmer's comparative helplessness when facing fire and the enormous losses which rural dwellers suffer by reason of its depredations. When the average farm or farmhouse catches fire, it is a total loss. The farmer is seldom fully protected by insurance, points out Secretary Wallace, and the total annual fire loss of farm property exceeds $50,000,000.

Farm fires are in large measure preventable. Care in the use of oils, kerosene, and gasoline, lightning protection, fireproof roofs, and emergency apparatus will go far toward reducing the terror and destructiveness of fire on the farm.

Secretary Wallace is again speaking in behalf of the farmer when he says that "freight rates on farm products must be brought down without impairing in any way efficiency of transportation." The industrial life of the nation was built up on a system of relatively low rates for agricultural products, he recalls. A sudden reversal of this theory of rate making results in great economic injustice, from which the farmers are suffering now.

Prove splendid laxative properties of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin by test

SCIENTIFIC test has now proven what Dr. Caldwell of Monticello asserted many years ago, that constipation will slow you up fully 25 per cent. The test was made by Dr. Donaldson of Loma Linda upon four men in the prime of life who deliberately went without a bowel movement for four days.

Within 48 hours the men had coated tongue and foul breath, cankers in the mouth, no appetite, restless sleep, indigestion, headache, depression, nervousness, cramps. The blood pressure was up 23 per cent. It is just this that Dr. Caldwell has preached to his patients in private and to the public through the printed word ever since he began the practice of his specialty, diseases of the stomach and bowels, back in 1875.

After observing for years the satisfactory effect of his prescription for constipation, he placed it in drug stores in 1892, a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. That was 30 years ago, and today over 10 million bottles are bought annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. You will find it in any drug store you enter, a generous-size bottle costing you less than a cent a dose.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal, free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

Every member of the family from the infants to the grandparents can use it with safety. It is gentle and mild. The formula is on the package. Mrs. Roy Cook of Bellefontaine, O., has been giving it to her 5-months old baby, who now weighs 19 pounds; and Mr. J. B. Dawson of Brinson, Ga., declares it the best laxative his family has ever found. Try a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for constipation or any of its symptoms. The results will delight you. And the cost is only one cent a dose.

EYES OF NATION ON OHIO WHICH WILL VOTE ON WINE AND BEER PROPOSAL DECLARES SPEAKER AT LOCAL MEETING

The eyes of the nation and the world are on Ohio and her stand in the coming question of whether beer and light wines shall be admitted to the state, which will be decided at the November election, according to Hon. A. A. Maysilles, of Dayton, county superintendent of the Montgomery County Schools, and chairman of the Ohio Dry Federation, who addressed members of the Greene County Dry Federation, at the mass meeting held at the First United Presbyterian Church, Monday night.

"The State Dry Federation is going to have no walk-away in the coming campaign and election," said Mr. Maysilles, of authority of word received by the officers of the Federation from leaders in Columbus. "It is time the people woke up," the speaker declared, "and if we don't get the facts across to the people of the state, especially those of the county and rural communities, our work will fail."

Professor Maysilles' address included a strong denial of the reports being circulated by "wet" sympathizers that the Ohio Dry Federation is political, a clear explanation of the laxity of the coming referendum to be introduced at the election and the position of Ohio in determining the fate of prohibition in the country.

"The greatest service a man can do to his party and to the people of the country is to exclude any man from the ranks of that party who has a tendency to 'wet' sympathy, and a tendency that refuses to do that things fails," the speaker emphatically declared.

"Ohio is placed in a precarious position due to two reasons," Professor Maysilles said, first, because the initiative and referendum laws are favorable to the step which is being planned now by the 'wet' of the state and second, because the President of the United States comes from Ohio. At the expiration of President Harding's term of office, the chances are ten to one that Ohio will turn out one or both candidates for the Chief Executive chair.

"The people of Ohio are above the average in morals, education, and other factors that contribute to the advancement of affairs," was one of the statements of the speaker, who held this as evidence that there was little reason for the efforts of the Dry Federation in the campaign, failing. "The laboring class says that it wants beer and light wines because they are the working class and are entitled to them, which by the way is a reflection on the working class," said Mr. Maysilles. "The foreigners say they want beer because of its food value. Beer now contains everything of value but the alcohol, which proves as William J. Bryan said, that the real reason the people want beer is because they want the thing that makes men drunk."

Prof. Maysilles voice da warning to the members of the Greene County Dry Federation, when he told them to crowd a meeting in everywhere they possibly could during the weeks before the election and to get the proposition to the country people.

The only hope of the prohibitionists in the state in case the beer and light wines are admitted at the November election, is that the State Supreme Court will declare the move unconstitutional or in case that that body does not take that stand that the United States Supreme Court will. There is doubt of that according to Mr. Maysilles as evidenced by the fact that the Court voted five to two to allow the referendum to go on the state ballot. In his own opinion, Mr. Maysilles thinks the Court would declare the act unconstitutional.

The laxity of the coming referendum, the speaker declared led him to the feeling that he would rather vote for the old saloon with its license and regulation, than to vote for the coming referendum which allows almost absolute freedom on the part of the liquor seller.

Realizing the difficulty to be faced by the federal agents and other authorities in enforcing the restrictions of the law, in case the new law becomes effective, the liquor sellers, won't stop according to Mr. Maysilles in selling beer of two and three-fourths per cent alcohol, but will go the limit.

A ray of hope in the coming campaign and election lies in Woman Suffrage, according to the speaker. "Women are known to be better morally than men and a question such as this one arouses them more than men," he continued.

The Rev. G. A. Scott was appointed chairman of the Greene County Dry Federation by the nominating committee of the organization at the meeting of the county Dry Federation held Monday afternoon. Dr. Scott will serve with Professor H. C. Aultman, county superintendent of schools as vice president; Mrs. J. W. Peterson, of Xenia, secretary and Mrs. Frank Hastings, treasurer.

Dr. E. MacDill, of Cincinnati, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League was present at the afternoon meeting, discussing the various phases of the proposed amendment.

On the motion of Dr. White of Cedarville, the Executive Committee of the Dry Federation will cooperate with the churches of the county, in the coming campaign. W. B. Bryson moved at the meeting, that the Executive Committee appoint an advisory committee representing the various organizations of the county, which was carried.

Miss Mary B. Ervin, secretary of the Greene County W. C. T. U. was unanimously elected campaign manager of the Greene County Dry Federation, at the meeting held at the First U. P. Church, at seven o'clock, when the members of Central Committee of the organization convened. Five additional members of the Executive Committee were appointed at the evening meeting. They were Ed Ballard of Xenia; the Rev. L. L. ray, Jamestown; the Rev. W. P. Harriman, Cedarville; the Rev. Harvell Crowell, Osborn; and the Rev. T. M. Scriff of Spring Valley. On special motion at the meeting, Mrs. Carrie Platts, president of the Greene County W. C. T. U. was added to the committee.

The resolutions passed at the meeting were read by Mrs. Peterson, the secretary, at the evening mass meeting, and were adopted by the assembly. The Rev. G. A. Scott, president of the Executive Committee presided at the evening meeting.

WILBERFORCE WINS OVER CHILLICOTHE

Wilberforce University football team opened its 1922 grid campaign with a victory Monday, by overwhelming Chillicothe, 59 to 0, in a drizzling rain.

Wilberforce stepped out in front in the initial period, running 26 points in the first quarter and increasing this lead to 33 points in the second period. The third quarter ended with Wilberforce having 40 points and 19 more were rolled up in the final period. Many substitutes were used by Coach Dean Mohr as the game progressed in order to give all of his athletes a chance.

Coach Mohr is pointing his eleven for a stiff grid schedule that will occupy the attention of Wilberforce fans during the rest of the season. New York University, Howard University of Washington D. C. and West Virginia University are schools that will be met on the oblong this fall, including Thanksgiving Day game at Philadelphia with Lincoln University.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Efficient Housekeeping

By Laura A. Kirkman

Answered Letter's . . . Mrs. P. F. "My freshly done-over hall ceiling has been discolored by rain which came through a leak in the roof. If there anything I can do to cover the unsightly mark?"

Answer: You can cover the mark by rubbing it with a square of magnesia. Mae: "How can I clean the leather seats on our dining room chairs?"

Answer: Rub the leather with equal parts of oil and vinegar, then polish it with a clean square of cheesecloth until the oil is rubbed off. Young Reader: "Our stove has become rusty, and hard layers of old blacking form a crust on parts of it. What can I do to remove this crust and the rust?"

Answer: You can remove the old caked blacking by rubbing it with a coarse grade of sandpaper. Remove the rust spots by rubbing them with vinegar just before blacking the stove.

Peggy: "How can I brighten my faded carpets?"

Answer: Clean them well then go over them with a stiff brush dipped in hot water that has had a very little turpentine added to it—not more than a few drops. It is surprising what a difference this treatment will often make, although if the carpet is too old and worn it may not be effective.

Man Reader: Can you tell me of something that will mend glass?"

Answer: Make a stiff paste by mixing whiting and white housepaint together. Put the broken edges of the glass together with this mixture, cleaning it off neatly. This excellent hint was sent to me by a Reader Friend. "Mrs. D. B." to publish in the column. China can also be mended with it.

Old Housekeeper: "I have literally hundreds of recipes, but often find unusual ones in your columns that I have never heard of before. Will you kindly print a good Johnny cake recipe and one for a quick raisin bread—if there is such a thing."

Answer: Thank you, Reader Friend. It always makes me happy to receive praise from a housekeeper of long experience. I take pleasure in printing the following:

Johnny Cake: Mix and sift one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder with one cup of flour and 1 cup of corn meal. Stir in 1-2 cup of granulated sugar, 1-2 teaspoon of salt, 2 cups of sweet milk, 1 slightly beaten egg, then add 1 teaspoon of melted butter. Bake in cup-cake pans, or in a sheet for 20 minutes in a hot oven.

Quick Raisin Bread: 2 eggs, 1 cup of granulated sugar, 2 cups of sweet milk, 1 cup seedless raisins, 4 cups of bread flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder and 1-2 teaspoon of salt. Sift the dry ingredients together and add the well beaten eggs and milk; last, add the raisins, pour into two greased bread pans, let stand for 20 minutes to become light and bake from 35 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Chopped walnut meats may be substituted for the raisins.

Tomorrow—Supper on the Chafing dish.

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 10.—Killed by kisses.

That was the verdict of county authorities tonight investigating the mysterious deaths of Harry Devine and Caroline Sinkler, who died in each other's arms.

Police believe the girl poisoned her lips, and kissed Devine because she was determined to die and to kill him so another woman should not have him.

GIFTS BRING TEARS AND SMILES CHAPTER 92

Nellie and Donald were to go to housekeeping at once, and most of their time in the month preceding their marriage was spent in finding and furnishing an apartment.

"There are plenty of apartments for millionaires," Donald grumbled to Mrs. Roberts, "but none for people who are poor, and yet who want a good location. It's like finding a needle in a haystack. I'm afraid Nellie will be all worn out trotting about with me. But I can't make her think so."

"I guess you can't! Why I wouldn't see you at all if didn't go tagging along. We'll find something soon. You see, Mrs. Roberts, we only need four rooms, and it seems as if every agent either has only two or ten. But it's great fun looking at the different places, and I don't get a bit tired."

The very next day they found what they wanted. A four-room apartment in a new building, not far from the boarding house. They were delighted to be so near Mrs. Roberts, and it was also convenient for Donald—near the subway.

On the day they signed a lease they found a surprise waiting them on their return to the boarding house. A large box addressed to Nellie stood in the hall. Donald opened it for her, and disclosed a wonderful case as table silver, a dozen of everything. On a card was written: "With best wishes of George and Dorothy Fallon."

"It will be years before we can furnish up to that," Donald said in mock distress. Nellie's exclamations of pleasure had brought several of the boarders into the hall, among them Miss Pitt.

"Your former fiancée is very generous," she said acidly. "I hope you never will be sorry you broke with him."

"I'd like to catch her being sorry!" Donald returned gayly. "Mr. Fallon is a charming man. It was very kind of him to remember Nellie. You must come and have dinner with us some night, Miss Pitt, and use some of this silver." He was so happy he wanted everyone, even sour Miss Pitt to be happy too.

"Thank you, Mr. Horne. When your wife learns to cook I shall accept with pleasure."

Nellie screamed with laughter. "I can cook, Miss Pitt. That is, a little, I am sure Donald shall have no reason to divorce me on that account."

They carried the silver in to Mrs. Robert's room. She was enthusiastic. "Solid silver lasts a life-time. It is a lovely gift," she said.

Now came the furnishing of the apartment. Donald and Nellie, after talking things over, had decided to put what money he could afford into furnishings and do away with a trip, taking one later when Donald had his vacation. They would be married in their own home.

"We'll have just you and Cora and a couple of friends of Donald's," Nellie told Mrs. Roberts. "We'll have a little supper afterward."

"I think you are very sensible. But, dear, I haven't told you what my gift is to be. Here it is." She opened a large box in which a dainty white crepe dress, a veil, white shoes and stockings lay revealed. "I stole one of your dresses for a guide," she said to the weeping Nellie, weeping for sheer happiness. She was to be married in white after all. A veil and everything just as she had dreamed when, crouched in a pew at the Corners, she had watched a wedding unknown to Miss Carter.

"There's no use trying to thank you! I just can't! But how did you know?"

"I knew because I love you, dear." "Knew what? What are you talking about?" Donald asked. "About being married in white, oh, Donald!" tears and laughter were now mixed. "Don't you know, you stupid boy, that every girl wants to be married in a white dress and veil?"

Tomorrow—A Love that Banished Fear.
